

Could you be our new Head of Counselling?

We are now looking for a new Head of Counselling. This is a fantastic role, right at the heart of all that Network does.

You will be responsible for all aspects of Network's counselling service; managing the waiting list, allocating clients and counsellors, monitoring and evaluating our work. You will recruit and manage counsellors, ensuring they work in a safe and ethical manner. You will have experience in running a counselling service, safeguarding and risk management. This is a senior leadership role within Network – so you will be helping to shape our charity and set the future direction.

The role calls for strong clinical expertise, excellent organisational and management skills and a warm, supportive approach. Network welcomes clients from all backgrounds with a wide range of presenting issues. As Network's training is Person Centred, a good understanding and appreciation of this approach is highly desirable.

Contract type: Permanent, part-time
Hours: 22.5 hours a week (negotiable)
Salary: £36,000 pro rata (£21,600 actual)
Location: Elm Park, Filton, Bristol BS34 7PS

We warmly encourage applications from groups that are currently under-represented in the counselling profession and across the VCSE sector.
